P.ink Door offers individualized support to women and their children as they exit prostitution and other forms of sexual exploitation. The mission of P.ink Door is to accompany women in their first steps toward an empowered, self-determined life, free from violence and exploitation.

This trip to P.ink Door will be spent learning about the work of P.ink Door in Berlin, the challenges and the victories. You will learn about exploitation of women in the sex industry and the ways in which women can be aided in creating a life of freedom. P.ink Door provides support such as financial management, therapeutic care, language courses, apartment searching, social connections, health concerns, and much more.
